

WATER, WETLANDS & WATERSHEDS SEMINAR

Spring 2013

Wednesdays, 11:45 – 12:35 PM, Phelps Lab 101

Brown bag (bring lunch if you'd like), the public is welcome & students may register for 1 credit:

ENV 6935 sect. 06AH, SWS 4932 sect. 022D, SWS 6932 sect. 9241, or contact mjsisk@ufl.edu for online section #

Jan 9	Mark Brown Professor, EES Mark Clark Associate Professor, SWS	Introduction.....food for thought
Jan 16	Jack Putz Professor, Department of Biology, UF	Rising Sea and Falling Forest Project: What Next?
Jan 23	Donald Behringer Assistant Professor, Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences, UF	Blooms and boats: Their impact and the recovery of Florida hard-bottom habitats
Jan 30	Peter Waylen Professor, Department of Geography, UF	Assigning significance to changes in Florida land cover, 1982-2006
Feb 6	Jennifer Seavey Asst. Director, Seahorse Key Marine Lab, University of Florida, UF	Between the river & the deep blue Gulf: The past & future of oysters in the Big Bend
Feb 13	Thomas Ruppert Climate and Policy Coordinator, Florida Sea Grant	Legal issues with adaptation to sea-level rise in Florida
Feb 20	Jim Channell Distinguished Professor, Department of Geological Sciences, UF	Global correlation of climate records over the last ~1 Myr: why is it important and how do we do it?
Feb 27	Andrea Dutton Assistant Professor, Department of Geological Sciences, UF	Understanding patterns of past, present, and future sea level change
Mar 13	Bob Swett Associate Professor, School of Forest Resources and Conservation, UF	Analyzing offshore recreational boating and right whale patterns in 3 northeast Florida counties
Mar 20	Brian Silliman Asst. Professor, Dept. of Zoology & Director, Seahorse Key Marine Lab	Resilience and degradation in Louisiana marshes following the BP oil spill
Mar 27	Don Blancher CEO/Chief Scientist Sustainable Ecosystem Restoration, LLC, Mobile, AL	Ecorestoration scaling: Strategies for Gulf of Mexico restoration following the BP oil spill
Apr 3	Karl Havens Professor, Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences, UF & Director, Florida Sea Grant	A multi-faceted response to an apparent collapse on the oyster fishery of Apalachicola Bay, Florida
Apr 10	Gustav Paulay Curator of Marine Malacology, FL Museum of Natural History, UF	TBA
Apr 17	Peter Adams Assistant Professor, Department of Geological Sciences, UF	Decadal to seasonal beach and nearshore morphodynamics at NASA-Kennedy Space Center, Cape Canaveral, Florida

Presented by:

Howard T. Odum Center for Wetlands ~ The Water Institute ~ Dept. of Soil & Water Science

Visit www.cfw.ufl.edu for previous seminars and recordings as they become available.