

The Department of Sociology at Duke University located in Durham, NC invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level with expertise in social network modeling and research. Appointment begins July 1, 2018. We seek scholars who have an outstanding research program, strong potential for extramural funding, and evidence of excellence in teaching who can contribute to the rich, interdisciplinary network of scholars affiliated with the Duke Network Analysis Center (<https://dnac.ssri.duke.edu/>). Preference will be given to network scholars whose substantive applications augment traditional areas of strength in the department. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement and up to three writing samples. Applicants must also have three letters of reference that can be submitted to Academic Jobs Online.

Please visit: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9769> to apply.

For full consideration, materials should be received by Oct 15, 2017. Only online submissions will be considered. Duke University is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.